

Excerpted from Overcoming the Inheritance Taboo
Penguin/Plume, published June, 2004.

Copyright © 2004 Steven J. Hendlin, Ph.D.

All rights reserved.

Table of Contents

Preface

Introduction: Tales From the Blood Wars

- The Drama and the Fury Around Inheritance
- Outline of the Book
- Who Is This Book For?

Part One: Before the Crisis

Chapter 1 - The Inheritance Taboo

- What Makes it a Taboo?
- Superstitious Thinking
- Are You Ready to Face the Taboo?

Chapter 2 Roles in the Family Drama: Givers

- The Miserly Type: "It's my money and I don't have to share it with anyone."
- The Generous Type: "It gives me great pleasure to have you enjoy my money and to pass on some of my possessions to you while I'm still alive."
- The Martyr Type: "My needs are small-don't worry about me."
- The Wishful Thinker: "Don't worry about it, everything will be just fine."
- The Squandering Type: "I'm spending my children's inheritance. Live for the moment, baby, know what I mean?"

Chapter 3 - Roles in the Family Drama: Receivers

- The Wicked One: "You'll get yours my little pretty! All in good time..."
- The Favorite Child: "Mom loves me the most, you'll see."
- The Lost and Forgotten Child: "Don't forget, she's my mom, too."
- The Problem Child: "I've got the most problems and need the most help, so don't begrudge me getting more than you do."
- The Trust Fund Child: "If I don't suck up, he'll deny me my money."
- The Adopted Child: "I brought so much joy to your life when you couldn't have children. Please do right by me in return."
- The Child Who Has His Own: "Don't deny me just because I'm smart, successful, and never needed your money to bail me out."
- The Second Wife/Husband: "I'm the one who loves you now. Please be sure to provide for me. After all, you promised me you would."
- The Teacher-Guru: "I'm the one who supported and coached you. A small gift of your appreciation surely isn't too much to ask."
- The Best Friend and Confidant: "We go way back-don't forget it."
- The Daddy-Doll Girlfriend: "I brought you so much pleasure and made you feel young again! Take care of me good, Sugar Daddy."
- The Deserving Charity: Just think of how many wonderful, deserving people your thoughtful contribution could help once you are gone. God will reward you in heaven for your generosity."

Chapter 4 - Here Comes Your Final Report Card

- Feelings About Your Family
- What If You Fail in Your Final Grade?

Chapter 5 - Disinheritance as a Weapon

- Example of Disinheritance Threat
- The Wealthy Trust Fund Child
- Confronting the Disinheritance Issue
- The Concept of Fairness
- What If You're Disinherited?

Chapter 6 - Think Inheritance is Your Birthright? Think Again!

- How Do We Come to Expect an Inheritance?
- Entitlement: From the Child's Point of View
- The Return of the Need to Be Nurtured
- Giving Up the Expectation of Inheritance
- Your Own Feelings of Entitlement
- "We're Spending Our Children's Inheritance"

Chapter 7 - Deciding to Plan For You and Your Clan

- What is an Estate Plan?
- Choosing a Successor Trustee
- Assessing Your Level of Child/Sibling Trust
- Planning for the "What if " Contingency
- Legal and Health Care Directives
- Expressing Your Wishes in Your Will

Part Two: During Crisis and After Death

Chapter 8 - Exploring Beliefs, Values and Emotions

- The Levels of Denial
- Confronting the Conspiracy of Silence
- Respecting the Right Not to Talk About Death or Dying
- Valuing Death and Letting Go of Attachment
- Communication Tools
- Exploring Your Beliefs and Values
- Key Emotions During Crisis

Chapter 9 - Insight Into Your Emotional Reactions

- Fear of Abandonment Versus Fear of Engulfment
- Unresolved Issues Surfacing During Crisis
- Inheritance Roles and Unresolved Issues
- How Parents Can Minimize Sibling Conflict

Chapter 10 - Possessions Live Forever

- The Need for Nurturing and Hunger for Possessions
- Preserving Family History and Ritual
- Example of Estrangement and Inheritance

Chapter 11 - Dividing the Goods Without the "Shoulds"

- Power and Control Issues
- Fairness Revisited
- Announcing the Ground Rules
- Announcing Prior Claims
- Who is Included?
- Let the Choosing Begin
- Managing and Resolving Conflicts

Chapter 12 - Managing Grief and Finding Relief

- Stages of Grieving
- Grief Work
- Forging New Directions

References

To see the Introduction, click here.